Focus on POCUS: Ultrasound for the Acutely Ill Patient

May 2-3, 2023

Are you a healthcare provider looking to improve your point of care ultrasound skills?

Learn point of care ultrasound from faculty experts in "Focus on POCUS: Ultrasound for the Acutely Ill Patient." This two-day, immersive course will feature didactics, integrative case-based learning, and expert-guided, small group hands-on scanning skills practice with a low student-to-instructor ratio for optimal impact.

Course highlights:

- Learn how point of care ultrasound can help identify causes of shock states and respiratory failure
- Develop skills in ultrasound image acquisition and interpretation for cardiac, lung, venous, and abdominal structures
- Learn how POCUS can safely guide central line and peripheral IV placements and lumbar puncture
- CME credits are available for Physicians & APPs

Cost: $599 (Physician/APP), $499 (Fellow/Resident)
